UNU Graduate Student Journal

Peace & Progress, Publishing Your Research!

Publish your research with United Nations University Peace and Progress (UPP), a peer reviewed academic journal created and operated by post graduate students of the United Nations University.

Are you...

Currently enrolled as a post graduate or a UNU alumnus?

Interested in global issues under the five UNU thematic clusters?

What we're looking for:

Track 1:
Original research from 5000 to 7000 words

Track 2:
Commentaries, book reviews, UN resolution analysis, monographs or notes from within the field from 1000 to 2000 words.

While the editorial board consists of students of the UNU, manuscripts will be peer-reviewed by graduate students from a diverse range of universities and institutions from around the world.
